

NEXT GEN PROGRAMME OFFICER

ROLE DESCRIPTION

An exciting volunteering opportunity for a current UK healthcare student/apprentice or professional to become part of a hardworking and passionate team who are looking to deliver a combination of in-person workshops and virtual events to secondary school students to inspire the next generation of healthcare workers.

WHAT IS THE NEXT GEN PROGRAM?

The programme aims are to:

- Raise awareness of the multitude of careers in healthcare students can pursue.
- Teach students a healthcare related skill.
- Provide students with a form of work experience to give their applications a competitive edge.
- Raise awareness of the alternative and/or newer routes into healthcare.
- Support students with their applications to university or career.

SKILLS WE ARE LOOKING FOR

Passionate

Hard working

Dedicated

Accountable

Ambitious

REQUIREMENTS

As an officer we would expect you:

- To be a current healthcare student OR professional;
- To have an enhanced DBS certificate or equivalent;
- To deliver the The Next Gen programme workshop to schools in your area;
- To run at least 1 workshop every 2 months;
- To attend all necessary training;
- To be actively involved in providing feedback on the programme and any ways to enhance it;
- To participate and run virtual events to support the community further;
- To attend meetings related to the programme;
- To discuss any questions, or concerns with The Next Gen Programme Director.